

World Wetlands day 2013

Come and discover the rising springs of the South East coast and learn why the Piccaninnie Ponds Karst wetlands are of International Importance.

Bus Departing Mount Gambier at 10:30am for full day activities or register for self-drive. Open attendance to Pick Swamp afternoon session 2.15pm.
Bookings essential for morning sessions and bus tour - limited places

Wednesday 20th February

Expert Presentations

Learn about the restoration journey of Piccaninnie Ponds and Pick Swamp, the importance of ground water for wetlands and threatened species of the karst rising springs.

Mount Gambier Library

Watson Terrace, Mount Gambier

6:00pm - 7:30pm

Refreshments provided

Saturday 23rd February

Spring into the Lower South East's World Wetlands Day Celebrations:

Morning session - multiple locations

- Guided snorkelling
- Expert presentations
- Rising springs tour
- Get up close and personal with the inhabitants

Hot food and drinks provided

Afternoon session - Pick Swamp

Restoration of Pick Swamp presentation and tour

Bird watching with experts, talk and tour

Coffee & tea provided

Further information and bookings

Email reception@senrm.sa.gov.au Phone (08) 8735 1177

Web karstexpressions.eventbrite.com.au

CARING
FOR OUR COUNTRY

Natural Resources
South East

Government of South Australia